BUS WITH NINE PUPILS MISSING IN COLORADO BLIZZARD IS SAFE

THREE DEATHS ARE LAID TO THE STORM

Denver (AP)—A radio report to the Sterling, Colo., police station early this morning said that nine school children missing since yesterday in the snow-locked Northern Colorado had been found safe and unharmed at a farm house.

Sheriff E. M. Brown who led a search party into the area radioed that the children and the bus driver were eating bacon and eggs at the Merle Carey farm, 12 miles northwest of Sterling, when found. They had spent the night at the farm.

The bus had last been heard from yesterday afternoon when it made one of its stops between Sterling and the Mt. Hope area, a sparsely populated section of small farms.

Deaths of three persons were blamed on the storm, which pushed its way into the area Wednesday with winds that reached 65 miles an hour.

The U. S. Weather Bureau here said there had been greater snow depths but not as much sustained wind with a snow storm in the region since the big one in 1949, which took 17 lives in five days.

Whistling along the eastern slope of the Rockies, this storm struck about 12 inches of new snow at Cheyenne and nine inches at Denver.

Wheatland, in the central part of Wyoming, got 13 inches of new snow which, added to some already on the ground, made a total of 19 inches. Most snow depths in the area were two to six inches.

Auto and air traffic was slowed to a crawl, if not halted; power and telephone lines were blocked out; and many rural and small community schools were closed.

The weather watchers said the snow would begin to thin out this morning but that the winds would last throughout the day.

Although temperatures were below freezing, they were not sub-zero nor what the Weather Bureau would term "extreme".

Storm warnings went out to Minnesota and northern sections of Wisconsin and Michigan last night as they appeared in the path of the storm, which erupted from the meeting of Canadian and Pacific fronts. Earlier, 40-mile-an-hour winds had blasted both Southern California and the Texas Panhandle.

THREE-CAR ACCIDENT

At this time the workers will be briefed on the part they must play in the Warren county campaign which will raise $26,177 for the national Red Cross. The campaign officially opens on Red Cross Sunday, March 1st and will continue throughout the month.

All units of the Warren county chapter will swing into action on the kick-off date and for one month will actively canvass every

Lawmakers Offer Ideas To Better Lot of Motorists

Harrisburg (P)—Pennsylvania's lawmakers, driving back and forth to the State Capitol each week, have come up with a multitude of ideas for bettering the lot of the average motorist.

More than 60 separate bills directly affecting motor vehicles have been introduced with the 1953 General Assembly less than two months old. It is by far the most popular subject for proposed legislation.

The bills cover practically every phase of motoring from licensing changes to the erection of signs denoting the number of persons killed at certain dangerous spots.

So far, only two of the bills have come out of committee in either chamber. Both passed the House handily and appear to have clear sailing in the Senate.

The first bill through the House would eliminate the ceiling of $3,500 on the construction of the popular roadside rests along Pennsylvania highways.

The other House-passed measure would double the present five-cent fee garages pay for auto inspection stickers with the entire fee going to support a highway safety promotion campaign. That fee is expected to bring in $440,000 during the current biennium.

YET SUSPECT IN MURDER OF HIS SISTER

Johnstown (P)—Police combed a densely wooded area 40 miles north of this Western Pennsylvania city today in search of a 24-year old combat veteran wanted for questioning in the death of his younger sister.

June Christoff, 21, a senior at Pennsylvania State College, was found strangled Tuesday night in the bedroom of their home at Frugality, a small mining community. Her brother, Jean, left on a hunting trip shortly before the body was discovered.

Paul Christoff, father of the dead girl, told police his son, a combat veteran of World War II, suffered a nervous breakdown in 1949 and was forced to leave school in his junior year at Carnegie Institute of Technology.

Det. John Carroll said the youth spent all day Tuesday with his sister and left shortly before his father discovered her body upon his return from work.

The father told police his daughter quit Penn State abruptly early this month and returned home.

Carroll said the brother is being sought for questioning and that no charges had been filed against him.

John Carroll, chief of Cambria County detectives who is directing the search for Christoff, emphasized that the brother is wanted only for questioning.

Coroner Joseph Govekar said there were no indications of a struggle in the victim's bedroom. He said the only marks of violence on her body were those caused by the belt which strangled her.

Govekar said his verdict on whether the death was murder or suicide will not be made until the brother is questioned.

Dr. Richard C. Greene, who performed an autopsy, said it was possible the victim knotted the belt herself. He added:

"A person under strong auto suggestion, amounting almost to personal hypnosis, might do it—say a schizophrenic or similarly mentally upset person."

Students of Warren High School heard music from the A Cappella Choir's winter concert program in their assemblies this morning.

The choir will sing the entire concert program for the public in Beaty Junior High School Thursday evening, February 26, beginning at 8:15. Tickets may be purchased from any member of the choir or may be obtained that evening at the door.

For the students this morning Carroll A. Fowler directed the choir in a Swiss folk tune, "Hi-Ho, Sing Gaily," for the opening selection. The Scotch melody, "Annie Laurie," was next. Soloists for this number were Louis Salerno and Richard Swanson. Gerald Klencik was at the piano.

The choir then sang "Mood Indigo," with Joan Saglumbene the accompanist.

Two more light-hearted songs followed. The first was the Latvian frolic, "Tradi Nuka," and the second was an arrangement of "Farmer in the Dell," called "Fun with the Farmer." Patricia Harrington played the accompaniment.

The final chorus of the concertized version of "Carmen," which the choir will sing in its entirety in the concert, concluded the assembly program. Margaret Eaton accompanied the choir in this number.

Nelson A. Rockefeller, the committee chairman, and Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower spent 45 minutes with the President. They declined to tell newsmen any details of their report.

Dr. Eisenhower is president of Pennsylvania State College and a brother of the President. The third member of the committee, Dr. Arthur S. Flemming, president of Ohio Wesleyan University and acting chief of the Office of Defense Mobilization, was out of town.

Anheuser-Busch Inc., New Cardinals Owner
St. Louis (P)—The St. Louis Cardinals were sold today for $3,750,000 to Anheuser-Busch, Inc., of St. Louis, one of the nation's largest breweries.

Sylvania Plans New Williamsport Plant
New York (P)—Sylvania Electric Products, Inc., today announced that its radio tube division will build a 120,000 square foot laboratory building this spring at Williamsport, Pa.

Matthew J. Burns, division general manager, said the new laboratories to be housed in the two-story brick and steel building will be devoted to development work and pilot plant operation in radio receiving tubes for military use.

Burns said the laboratories will be in full operation soon after the first of next year. They will employ about 400 persons.

Plans Under Way To Rehabilitate State Armory in This City
That Company I, Pennsylvania National Guard, will be reactivated in Warren within a year was predicted today by Paul W. Yagge, chairman of the Warren Local Armory Board in announcing that the Armory Rehabilitation Program, under the responsibility of the Adjutant General, has approved a project covering the State Armory on Hickory street in Warren.

Mr. Yagge told The Times-Mirror that alterations and repairs will include the following: painting and repair of exterior masonry, reworking of toilet room and shower room on first floor, a new roof and painting of the monitor, exterior and interior painting, replacement of boiler and pump and installation of adequate heating, extensive electrical work.

Work will start as soon as the specifications are approved, submitted to bidders and bids awarded. Drawings covering the technical specifications for the general contract, heating and electrical work are now being considered by the Department of Property and Supplies.

It was said today that this announcement embodies good news for rifle and pistol shooters, who have complained that the Armory is always cold and the lighting poor. The new lighting system to be installed in the range will be the latest for gallery, rifle and pistol shooting.

With the local Armory having badly deteriorated, the Warren Local Armory Board has been trying to get it repaired.

Snack Bar at The Hospital Approved By Board Meeting

Space for a snack bar at Warren General Hospital, to be operated by the Hospital Auxiliary, has been arranged for in the building plans and approved by the architect, it was announced at a meeting of the hospital's Board of Directors, Thursday.

The snack bar will be located at a junction of the old and new buildings and will fill a great need at the hospital both for patients' convenience and for use by visitors.

The Board authorized construction of the snack bar, together with the necessary plumbing.

Among other routine business which came before the Board was the provision of two beds, no longer needed at the hospital, for use by the Warren Visiting Nurse Association, the latter to purchase new mattresses, and approval of the report of Mrs. D. CLAIMS COPY FOR OVERSEAS WAS ALTERED

Washington (P)—A New York employee of the Voice of America today charged three of his fellow workers watered down anti-Communist references in scripts prepared for overseas broadcasts.

The employee, Virgil E. Felling, told a Senate Investigations Subcommittee he had encountered several such instances and had come to feel he was fighting "sinister influences."

Asked by Chairman McCarthy (R-Wis) to name those he considered responsible "for this softening down or watering of the Communist," Felling called off the names of Harold Berman, Donald Taylor and Robert Goldman.

Felling identified himself as chief of the Latin-American news service of the Voice.

He presented to the subcommittee documents which he said covered a specific instance of watering down last Jan. 21, the day after President Eisenhower's inauguration.

On that day, Felling related, he prepared a script which told of pro-American demonstrations by "anti-Communist" elements in Guatemala.

The demonstrations were a spontaneous showing of affection of the American people and gratification over Eisenhower's inauguration, Felling said.

However, he said that the description, "anti-Communist," was twice pencilled out of his copy on the central news desk of the Voice in New York.

Felling said the editing was done by Goldman, an employee on the desk, at the direction of Taylor, a supervisor there.

Felling said he had encountered many similar instances in the last year and a half, but that he had not kept records on them as he did in the case of the Jan. 21 incident.

COMMITTEE TO PROBE WHITE HILL SCHOOL
Washington, Pa. (P)—Gov. John S. Fine's prison investigating committee will meet at the White Hill Industrial School near Harrisburg next week.

The group recessed yesterday after visiting the Morgans Training School in Washington County. So far the committee has inspected six state penal institutions.

No News Concerning Meeting of Cabinet
Washington (P)—President Eisenhower met with his Cabinet today. And reporters, previously told there was a strict rule of silence, encountered a new block to getting any scraps of news from the session.

The Cabinet members were instructed to enter and leave the White House through a rear door.

This means reporters have no opportunity to interview them before or after the meeting although the White House said that wasn't the purpose at all.

Health Service Finds Outbreak of Flu Not as Mild as First Reports Indicated
Washington (P)—The Public Health Service said today that new data on deaths in a number of cities suggest that "the current outbreak of influenza is not quite as mild as first reports seem to indicate."

However, a Public Health official said the epidemic now is apparently on the wane, on the basis of reports from the 48 states.

The weekly communicable disease summary said deaths from influenza and pneumonia in 53 reporting cities for the week ending Feb. 7 totaled 610.

It said this was an increase for the fifth consecutive week and the highest total for any one week during the influenza outbreaks of the last four years.

The largest number of influenza and pneumonia deaths reported by the 58 cities in 1951 was 527 for the week ended March 17, the top in 1950 was 439 for the week ended March 25, and in 1952 it was 372 for the week ended March 15.

The 610 deaths reported for the week ended Feb. 7 represented a 10 per cent increase over the 554 in the preceding week, but it was noted that the 554 had been a 20 per cent increase over the 463 in the week ended Jan. 24.

Search Under Way for Beneficiaries of $50,000 Estate

Chicago, Ill.—Search is under way in western Pennsylvania for descendants, probably grandchildren of the late Mrs. Catherine McKinnis, nee Rees, and a younger son, who are wanted to claim a $50,000 estate which passed out of their family many years ago. The search was now returned.

This was revealed here today by Walter C. Cox, probate judge, 208 S. LaSalle St., Chicago, who specializes in tracing missing relatives to settle estates. He is over the hunt with only a few clues.

A life interest in the estate in question, Mr. Cox said, "was at the time given to a servant by a member of the Rees family. The beneficiary of the life interest is now dead, and the fortune reverts to the Rees heirs who probably never heard of it.

Legal claimants are the descendants of the two Rees sisters only. Catherine, born in about 1815 (correct), is reported to have married a man named Hopkins, while her younger sister, first name unknown, married a man named Lewis.

The two couples were last known to have settled in western Pennsylvania, and there is reason to believe their descendants are still in the area. Unfortunately the exact locality is unknown.

"While children of the Rees sisters would have first claim, lapse of time make it doubtful that any are still living and that grandchildren will prove to be the legal claimants."

TOUCHY GOLDFISH

In the wild state, goldfish are a greenish-brown, not gold. Colorful goldfish have been produced by careful breeding, but when they resume life under natural conditions they revert to their original color.

WORK FOR MONEY

Approximately 80,000 bees must visit at least 3,260,000 flowers in the course of a day to produce one pound of honey, according to apiarists.

Expect Big Crowd at Legion's Washington Birthday Dinner

In observance of Washington's Birthday, Chief Cornplanter Post and the American Legion Auxiliary will hold their annual dinner dance in the Legion Home at 6:30 p. m. Saturday with a number of district officers as speakers and guests of honor.

Mrs. Veda Reese of Smithport, president of the American Legion Inter-County Council, will be accompanied here by Mrs. Amanda Johnson of Ridgway. John Collins of McConnellsville, western vice commander of the Legion; William Campbell of Bruns, western department sergeant-at-arms; Ray Gamble of Oil City, 28th district commander; and James Hindman of Oil City, 28th district service officer for the past 25 years, will be present.

Many reservations have been made for the dinner, which will be followed by dancing to the music of Orrie Beebe's trio.

Seven U. S. Presidents were born in Ohio.

Candidates Prepare To Start Petitions Tuesday, Feb. 24th

With this coming Tuesday, February 24, as the first day for candidates to circulate their nominating petitions for the May 19 primaries, Clerk Ray Thompson at the County Commissioners' office said today that comparatively few petitions have been handed out at that office. It is indicated that an attempt will be made by the Democrats toward a show of strength, the Democratic chairman for the county having obtained a number of petition blanks.

With the primary to take place on May 19, all petitions must be filed by March 16, the official deadline. Election is November 3.

The several boroughs in the county, including Warren, will elect burgesses and each of Warren's nine wards will elect a councilman. In the townships, one school director, one tax collector, one auditor, and one supervisor will be elected, as well as elections officers, constable and magistrate wherever the latter terms expire. Individual school boards will continue to function in the seven townships included in the Warren Area Joint Schools. Warren will elect a tax collector.

County offices to be filled are those of district attorney, coroner, register and recorder.

Mr. Thompson said today he expects many candidates will call for their petitions on Monday at the Commissioners' office.

BENEFIT PLANNED

A ham supper will be held in the Pittsfield community center on Monday evening, with proceeds to go into the center's treasury, and all in the community are urged to support the event.

YMCA CAMP WILL BE DISCUSSED AT DINNER

Harold Moore, State YMCA associate secretary and camping expert, will consult with members of the YMCA's boys' work committee and camp leaders at a dinner-meeting scheduled for 8:00 o'clock today in the local building. Mr. Moore comes here by special request of the committee, which is deeply concerned about bettering its camping program.

The meeting will be in charge of Charles Koebley, chairman of the group, and Dan K. Walton, general secretary, and Emerson Abram, new boys' work secretary, will be present to help out with the discussion. Routine reports on the agenda will also be considered.

SOLID STEP FORWARD

The British-Egyptian agreement on the future of the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan promises the first solid step toward new and improved relations between the Middle Eastern Arab world and the West.

The thorny Sudan question lies at the root of the controversy between Egypt and Britain. The two have jointly governed the Sudan. Britain wanted the Sudanese to be allowed to decide their own future. General Naguib's Egyptian government wanted to assume immediate rule over the country.

Under the new agreement, the Sudan will shortly enter upon a transitional three-year period of self-government, after which it will decide in a plebiscite whether it wants to join Egypt or remain independent.

If this matter can now proceed without major hitch, it is possible Egypt and Britain can reach a further accord on plans for the ultimate withdrawal of British troops from the Suez Canal zone. Observers believe this goal can be attained, assuming some scheme can be devised to assure the proper defense of the canal to keep it out of Communist hands.

In any event the Sudan agreement represents progress in a part of the globe that has given the West little to cheer about in the past decade or more.

IKE'S NOT AWED BY WHITE HOUSE

One of the remarkable things about the White House is the way it is made livable by a succession of families so strikingly different in personality, habit, tastes and interests.

For all its imposing formality, the place is often most informal. Possibly it will never again reach the level of informality it attained in Theodore Roosevelt's day, when a pony rode upstairs in the White House elevator to cheer up one of the President's sons.

But the new occupant, Mr. Eisenhower, is doing his bit to make the official residence a human abode. Every now and then he slips out onto the lawn to slap some golf balls.

His golf antics put the lawn to more use than it's had from a dozen annual Easter egg rollings. The people who put him there must be glad the President declines to be frightened by the place.

Tomorrow will be the last of two spring Dollar Days with 38 Warren merchants participating, and from advance reports it would be wise for shoppers to get down town early, if they hope to be among those who will benefit by being on hand in time to make choice selections at bargain-saving prices.

Many in the community were grieved to read Thursday of the passing of one of the most popular mail carriers who ever trod a route in Warren in the death of Joseph Anderson, 108 Canton street. "Joe" counted his friends by those who had the pleasure of making his acquaintance.

Spiritual Diary for Lent

Who hath despised the day of small things?—Zechariah 4:10.
I come in little things,
Saith the Lord;
My starry wings I do forsake,
Love's highway of humility to take,
Meekly I fit my stature to your need.

Today's Message
We are disposed to value success in terms of big things, and to undervalue and ignore the little things of life.
A big rushing river is but the team-work of numberless little drops of water. A gigantic mountain is only the bulk of innumerable grains of sand and particles of dust piled up. The worthiness of the Church is not expressed in terms of brick and mortar—great cathedrals with massive domes—but in the gentle life and faithful service of the individual members.

The greatness of Jesus was not shown so much in the Mount of Transfiguration or by His walking on the sea, as in the simplicity and unselfishness of His sinless life of service among men.
Success in life is not enhanced by wishing and waiting for bigger things and greater opportunities, but by making the most of the best things at hand. Life is great, not in doing great and wonderful things only, but rather in doing ordinary, commonplace things in a great and wonderful way.

—FRANK M. NEAL

Today's Prayer
Dear Lord, help us to be great in the magnificent way in which we go about our ordinary daily tasks. Amen.

"I'm a Little Nervous—I'm New at This"

Here And There

The Titusville Herald calls attention to the fact that the current issue of "Man's Life" magazine features an article on the perilous work of oil well shooters written by Harry Botsford, a native of this area and a prolific and popular magazine writer. He tributes the shooters as courageous men working at one of the most dangerous jobs in the industrial world. His point is that few shooters live to reach the retirement age, and when they go, their funerals are inexpensive because no coffin is needed for the remains. Anecdotes of the lives and deaths of some shooters illustrate his point. Photographs taken by local persons are depicted. They show where Augie Bond died near Pleasantville and the scene of the nitroglycerin factory blast north of Enterprise last fall. Mr. Botsford was born in Pleasantville. He was a Titusville businessman for some years and was secretary of the local Chamber of Commerce during the early 1930's. Mr. Botsford has been a free lance writer about ten years and has at least two books to his credit, as well as many articles for magazines. He is now living in New York City.

YEARS AGO

Mr. and Mrs. August Hammer, Sheneld, are celebrating their golden wedding anniversary. Warren High school cagers trimmed Sheffield tresses, 22-18, in a thrilling exhibition. Local team was composed of Schmidt, Anderson, Smith, Caldwell, Chido, Wolfe and Check while the Sheffield team players were Korchak, Beck, Whitehill, Jones, Horton and Larson. Miss Isabelle Dening, director, and members of the Chu Rho Bible Class of First Lutheran who have been selected as characters for the play, "Little Women," are busy with rehearsals. An ultimatum to "stick to dresses" was served on Ruth Chatterton, Joan Blondell, Bette Davis and other actresses by Warner Studios, sharply dissenting from the fad for mannish attire as set by Marlene Dietrich. Mrs. Bertha Christensen and Miss Harnet Booth have returned from New York City, where they have been shopping for the past week for smart merchandise with which to open their new shop next week. Will Rogers sez: Remember my old rich "Lafun" that I was telling you about the government wanting him to live in Hollywood. They tried to prove that he wasn't in his right mind because one time when his car stalled and they couldn't get it going, he traded it for an old pony, got on him and rode off. And they call that crazy.

Worried Cattlemen Ride Herd On Congress for Price Boost

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Recent drops in beef cattle and other farm prices have put Congress in a somewhat jittery mood. Letters, telegrams and phone calls are beginning to snow down from the farm belt. Individual farmers and representatives of the farm organizations are demanding personally that something be done. All this pressure isn't necessary to impress some of the farm state solons. Take the case of Sen. Clinton P. Anderson of New Mexico, who used to be a Secretary of Agriculture himself. Last year he bought range cattle averaging 400 pounds at 24 cents a pound—$96 a head. Fattened to 800 and 900 pounds at a cost of $50 or more a head, these feeders are now ready for market. The current offering price is 16 cents a pound—$128 to $144 a head—or a net loss of $2 to $18 on each critter. This experience, repeated with variations in feed lots all over the country, is what bothers the farmers and the congressmen. From the livestock men it has brought charges that this is a packer's holiday. With prices dropping, there is extra heavy marketing. It is charged that the packing houses are using this to depress prices.

As if anticipating criticism of this kind, the packers are already putting up their defenses. The annual report of Armour and Co., for instance, is cited to show that this packer lost 7/100 of a cent on each dollar of food sales last year. The company ended the year with a total profit of 33/100 of a cent on each dollar of sales only because of the profit on by-product operations, so it says. A letter which F. W. Specht, president of Armour, has sent to all congressmen, cites price controls as one of the main reasons why the packers have not made more money on food sales. Nevertheless, under these same controls in 1951, Armour reported profits of 18/100 of a cent on every dollar of food sales and 72/100 of a cent profit per dollar of sales on all operations.

The price controls are now being removed by the Office of Price Stabilization, which will probably go completely out of business by April 30.

Department of Agriculture under the new Eisenhower administration is trying to calm everybody down on this situation. In a recent statement, Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson told cattlemen to drop their unwarranted pessimism.

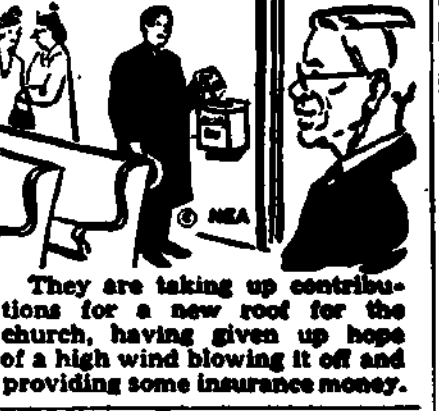

"EMPLOYMENT and income are higher than ever before," Secretary Benson declared. "This promises more stability to cattle prices, particularly since reductions due this year in the supply of pork will bolster the market for cattle."

As if in support of Secretary Benson's statement, O. V. Wells, head of the Bureau of Agriculture Economics appeared before the Senate Agriculture Committee and presented a picture of just what has happened to the cattle market.

In June, 1950, before the Korean war started, beef cattle were selling to the packers at an average of 25 cents a pound. The price rose to nearly 32 cents in April, 1951, dropped gradually to 20 cents in December, 1952.

While farmers would like to believe all these reassuring things, a falling market, as in beef cattle prices, is hard to take. Consequently, agitation is already beginning for increased price-support programs, government subsidies on agricultural exports, or other steps to restore higher prices. All this in spite of President Eisenhower's plan to stop inflation by a return to a free market.

YOU and YOUR CONGRESS

Washington — Tax reduction is getting tangled up in the parliamentary procedure of Congress.

Chairman Daniel A. Reed (R-I. Y.) of the House Ways and Means Committee, where all tax legislation must originate, wants a five percent reduction of individual income taxes a reduction of five and a half percent this year.

He would do that with his bill—labeled H. R. 1 because it was the first introduced in the House this year—to and on June 30 the 11 percent annual increase in individual income taxes which Congress voted after the fighting in Korea began. That increase is now scheduled to expire December 31 and Reed would obtain the five and a half percent tax reduction simply by changing the termination date to June 30.

He wants fast Congressional approval of H. R. 1. He also wants the excess profits tax on business to expire June 30, as scheduled, and says he will not consider any extension of that tax.

Other Republican leaders in Congress have different ideas, however. Senate Majority Leader Robert A. Taft (Ohio) agrees with President Eisenhower that efforts to balance the budget should precede those to cut taxes.

Taft also believes the excess profits tax should be extended, at least to the end of this year.

The budget for the 1954 fiscal year, beginning July 1, which the new Administration inherited from the old, indicates a deficit of nearly $10 billion. The Eisenhower Administration wants a few months to decide where and by how much this budget can be cut. It will begin sending its recommendations to Congress in April and the House, which traditionally handles appropriations bills first, hopes to finish work on all spending bills and get them to the Senate by May 15.

House Speaker Joseph W. Martin, Jr. (Mass.) and Majority

Leader Charles A. Halleck (Ind.) agree with the White House and Taft that budget balancing efforts should have priority over tax cutting. So does Chairman Leo E. Allen (R-Ian.) of the powerful House Rules Committee, which channels legislation to the House floor for debate. Allen says he will keep all tax cutting legislation bottled up at least until May 1.

That's where parliamentary procedure comes in.

Because tax legislation is privileged matter under House rules, Reed's committee could send a bill straight to the floor for debate under an "open rule" or have it go there via the Rules Committee under a "closed rule." A "closed rule" permits amendments only from members of the Ways and Means Committee. An "open rule" permits amendments from any House member on any phase of taxation, a procedure which the Ways and Means Committee shuns.

It is likely that under an "open rule" amendments would be offered to let the 11 percent personal income tax increase and the excess profits tax expire together on December 31, which would require a six-month extension of the excess profits tax.

A tax bill that goes to the Rules Committee is not acted on by that committee until the chairman brings it up for consideration. He can sit on it.

It could be forced out of the Rules Committee with a "discharge petition"—a little used and seldom effective device requiring the signatures of 215 House members.

Meanwhile, in whatever form the tax bill cleared the House, it could be changed in the Senate—again perhaps to have both the personal tax increase and the excess profits tax expire December 31. If the Senate did change it, the bill then would have to go to a conference of House and Senate members, who would be charged with reaching an agreement acceptable to both chambers.

A conference means delay. Thus, one way or another, it seems likely that final tax action will be held off under the parliamentary process until the White House has had more time to probe the budget.

Wisconsin was the first state to adopt an unemployment compensation act, becoming effective in 1934.

Compressor Outfit Bought by Warren Dealers for Junk

Barnes—The gasoline compressor and buildings, owned by the Forest Chemical Company and operated for many years in the early part of the century, have been sold to Charles Punsky and Son of Warren and are being razed for junk. This plant was a pioneer in the production of gasoline and for several years gave steady employment to a number of men.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Miller and children, Warren, were Sunday guests at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Byron Miller.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Baker and daughter, Marilyn, East Hickory, Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Dehner, Leeper, were week end guests at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Nichols.

George M. Conquer is employed at the Western Auto Supply in Warren and is commuting.

Mr. and Mrs. George Conquer called on Susan Harrington in Pittsfield Saturday afternoon.

Dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Allen Thursday were Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Smedley and Mrs. Carmen Fitzgerald, Warren.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Curtis returned home Saturday evening after visiting for the past four weeks at the home of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Curtis, in Randolph, N. Y. Charles Curtis and family visited them after their return. He had brought Mrs. Curtis and their daughter, Pamela, up to stay this week with her mother, Mrs. Kay Bramer, of Sheffield, who has been hospitalized.

Mr. and Mrs. M. H. MacDonald and daughter, Gail, Buffalo, N. Y., Mr. and Mrs. A. L. McWilliams and daughter, Brenda, Norfolk, Va. were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Holden over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rudolph attended a dinner party at the home of Rev. and Mrs. John McCleery in Tidouate Friday evening.

Two new little Barnes residents arrived at Warren maternity hospital Sunday morning. The first, a son, weighing six pounds, 4½ ounces, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Eck. This is their first child. Mrs. Eck was formerly Lucille Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Byron Miller. The other, a girl, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Clever. YOUR FOREST RANGER

L. E. Stots

Intensive scientific forest management on the Allegheny, or any other national forest, is impossible without adequate markets for the sawlogs and other timber products grown. While many sawmills and pulp mills in the United States are either entirely, or partially dependent upon national forest stumpage for their existence, the Forest Service is equally dependent upon these mills, in and adjacent to the national forests, for a market for the annual timber crops which these vast "tree farms" produce under sustained yield management.

A mature sawtimber tree, on a national forest, can never fully serve the people of the United States, who are all stockholders in this and billions of other trees, until it has been sold or the stump to the highest bidder, and started on its long road to the sawmill, the lumber pile and the ultimate consumer.

Fortunately, the Allegheny National Forest is ideally situated in relation to the greatest lumber consuming market in the United States. Unlike many western national forests, lumber produced from Allegheny Forest timber can be quickly transported to industrial users and yards by truck, or by short rail haul, instead of having to be shipped across an entire continent by rail, or around it by boat, to reach its markets.

A fine net work of paved highways, truck trails and lease roads serve the northern hardwood forests here on the Allegheny so that its timber resources can be readily tapped with a minimum of road construction.

Important as all of these advantages are to the timber grower, and the Allegheny Forest are CATTLE SHARE MIDWEST STORMS—Covered with part of Chicago's five-inch snowfall, cattle mill about in pens at the Chicago stockyards as storms blanketed the midwest with several inches of snow. The receipt of 24,000 head of cattle in Chicago was slightly higher than normal, perhaps indicating farmers' hope for higher prices with the end of controls.

its diameter by an average of two inches. An occasional fast growing cherry on the best soil may add as much as four inches of diameter growth in the next decade. More significant to the sawmill man than the volume growth on these trees, in the next decade, will be the improved quality of the growth that will accumulate.

All of the defective, or otherwise poor risk trees will already have been removed in this year's cut, and cull trees will have been girdled. The ten annual rings of new wood on each tree, during the next decade, will be free of knots except on smaller trees which will not be ready for cutting for several decades.

Under careful selective cutting, and intensive fire protection, the quality of the sawlogs on the Allegheny Forest of the future will steadily improve, and should find a ready market in a Nation which has doubled its population since 1900, and has become a world leader in even less time.

Many Entertaining Situations Coming Up In Junior Play

Not just one interesting situation but a whole series of them will confront the audience when the junior class of Warren High School presents its annual dramatic production in the school auditorium on March 5.

"Campus Quarantine," a three-act comedy by Robert Ray, is the drama selected and, under Kathryn Martin's expert direction, another evening of fine entertainment is assured.

The action starts when one girl in the Kanna Jamma sorority house breaks out with chicken pox on a Saturday night, and a quarantine is the verdict. Not only are all the sorority sisters quarantined, but several boys, working as kitchen helpers, are confined within the house.

As if chicken pox under such circumstances did not cause enough confusion, an elopement is planned.

To make things even more complicated, news comes of the impending visit of an out-of-town sports hero, to whom one of the sorority girls has sent an admiring letter, in which she enclosed a photograph.

The panicky house mother, a strict physician, and a group of bewildered college students add to the merriment, which promises to keep the audience rollicking with laughter.

Youngsville EUB Plans An Unusual Opening Service

An interesting and challenging opening service has been arranged Sunday for the Youngsville Evangelical United Brethren church school, which will be called to order promptly at 10:00 a. m.

An actual auction of a boy will be portrayed in an effort to stir the imagination and clarify the question of community responsibility. Ronnie Blackmer will be the center of attention, as representatives of business, the clergy, educational institutions, professional men, and others vie with "Mr. Crime" for control of his life. The surprise climax will stimulate the adults into more active interest in the youth of the immediate vicinity.

All who attend are reminded that this week is the monthly Building Fund emphasis and the total offering will be dedicated to the proposed new parsonage and educational unit.

In the 11:00 a. m. worship hour, the Rev. James Reed of St. Albans, W. Va., will preach the sermon; E. C. Fredericks will direct the senior choir in the anthem "Abide With Me," Monk-Wilson.

The closing service of the Lenten evangelistic meetings, with Rev. Reed as speaker, will be held at 7:30 p. m., when Mrs. C. B. Kinney, Warren, will provide the special music.

Other services of the day will follow the regular schedule and these events are announced for the coming week: Wednesday, 7:30, midweek service, and 8:35, senior choir rehearsal; Thursday, 6:00, Father and son banquet; Saturday, 10:00, junior choir, and 10:30, pastor's class for juniors; Sunday, 10:00, pastor's class for intermediates at the parsonage.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S GROUP

The Young People's Group of Calvary Baptist church will meet, as usual, at 6:30 p. m. Sunday, with Charles Confer in charge of a program featuring Bible baseball. The Brown Bears are leading in the membership contest and all members are urged to bring their friends.

Last Sunday's Valentine program, with the story of "Tommy Tumbler's Heart," and music by Marilyn and Kenneth Cartwright, proved very enjoyable. The meeting was concluded with a short message by Rev. Harold Cartwright.

COMMUNITY CLUB

The monthly social meeting of the Hemlock Community Club was held Wednesday evening, with a tureen dinner served by Mrs. Fred Carlson and her committee. An evening of entertaining games followed.

The regular business meeting of the club will be held March 4, and all members are asked to be on hand.

If You Seek the Negative You Will Always Find It

"We see what we are looking for. If we look for the negative we'll find the negative," says an educator.

Next time you find yourself fretting and fuming over a personal problem, take a closer look. Perhaps you have been looking for the negative.

Is an in-law getting you down? Well, what have you been emphasizing in your mind besides small slights, minor criticisms, etc.? If you have nothing more serious, try to forget them and look for likable qualities.

Do you hate housework? It could be that you've been concentrating on the drudgery, of which there is always plenty. Instead of regarding it as a means to a worthwhile end, the building of a happy home.

LOOK FOR THE SILVER LINING

[S your husband inconsiderate? He probably is in some ways, but why not try concentrating on all the things he does do to provide for and protect you?

Don't your children appreciate you? Well, did you really appreciate your parents when you were a child? Instead of dwelling on what you regard as their ingratitude, why not look for their good qualities. Realize that if you really are a good mother the time will come when your children will realize it and repay you by trying to be good parents themselves.

Are you dissatisfied with yourself because you botched a job, or said the wrong thing, or handled a situation poorly? If you dwell on your own faults and mistakes too much you're bound to feel inadequate.

When you know you've made a mistake dismiss it with the conviction that you'll never make it again. It's as bad to look for the negative in yourself as it is to look for it in others.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Papalia, 18 Eddy street, wish to announce the engagement of their youngest daughter, Nancy, to Charles Dorotic, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Dorotic, 45 Mill street, Sheffield. No definite date has been set for the wedding.

Christian Home Day Observance

"The well-being of society, the success of the church, the prosperity of the nation depend upon home influences," George W. Valentine, pastor of the Seventh-day Adventist church, told his congregation at the weekly worship hour.

"The heart of the community, of the church, and of the nation is the home," he said. "There is no more important field of effort than that committed to the founders and guardians of the home. The work of fathers and mothers involves great and far-reaching results."

In observance of "Christian Home Day," annually participated in by all Seventh-day Adventist churches, the pastor urged the parents to train their children in the way that they should go. "The young people who have been trained in lessons of obedience, unselfishness, morality, and right-doing have made America great," he said.

"The secret of saving your children," the pastor continued, "lies in making your home lovely and attractive. A firm, godly influence to properly train and educate the mind would save many children from ruin."

Elder Valentine also presented Patty Durlin a nice Bible, the church folks got her because she lost her other one in the fire, January 14, at the McCoy Nursing Home.

McCLINTOCK PTA HAS FOUNDERS' DAY

Only a fair-sized crowd was present for the February meeting of the McClintock PTA, conducted by Mrs. D. M. Kinander. Mrs. Roger Olson, president of Community Council, spoke of the Well Baby Clinic, the Northwest District Conference to be held here May 2, and the PTA Awards. A plea for Girl Scout leaders was made by the field representative.

Mrs. John Chloquennol, program chairman, presented the following numbers: Vocal solos, "Cry," "To-night We Love" and "Too Young," Vincent Toscano; accordion selections, "Lady of Spain," "Keep It a Secret" and "Don't Let the Stars Get in Your Eyes"; Freddie Scallise; Founders' Day skit, Mrs. Conway, Miss Merchant, Miss Piper and Mr. Olson, faculty members.

Refreshments in keeping with the patriotic theme were served by second grade mothers, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Augustus Swick.

IRVINGDALE PTA

Mrs. Gerald Wallin, president, was in charge of the February meeting of Irvingdale PTA, with devotions led by Mrs. George Johnson on the topic "Our Religious Heritage." Opening ceremonies including singing of "America," salute to the flag and recital of the Lord's Prayer.

Routine secretarial and financial reports were given by Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Gagner and the attendance award was accorded Mrs. Hunter's room. For the program, Mrs. Hunter presented eighth grade pupils in articles on famous people, prepared in class sessions Friday. A collection was taken for Founders' Day and the meeting closed with singing of "America the Beautiful."

WARREN GRANGERS ENJOY PROGRAM

Following the regular meeting of Warren Grange No. 1025, the lecturers presented a program which included these numbers: Song, Love's Old Sweet Song; recital, The Origin of Valentine Day, by the lecturer; piano solos, Chopin Valze in G flat major, and Down Yonder, Shirley Ann Johnson.

The remainder of the evening was enjoyed in a Valentine game, and exchange, each reading the Valentine he received. To conclude, the social committee served refreshments.

IS THE HEART DELICATE?

Because diseases of the heart and circulation are the leading cause of death in America, some people believe the heart to be a delicate organ. This is not so. The heart is chiefly muscle, and constant exercise makes it extremely tough. From months before birth until death, the heart continues its rhythmic contractions, never relaxing for more than a fraction of a second. The heart can be likened to an athlete always in training, and while even the best of athletes slow up in time, the heart normally is about as strong at the age of fifty as at twenty. Public education on the heart and heart disease is a major function of the Heart Association, which is dependent upon the public for support through the Heart Fund.

Bible Words to Live by

My favorite Bible Verse is:
PSALM 23:1—"The Lord is my shepherd, I shall not want."

In all its simplicity this word in the Bible includes everything that my soul craves, and for which my heart cries out.

It rates me as a poor, helpless and defenseless sheep, which I truly am, a lost creature for time and eternity, were it not for my good shepherd.

It includes God's providential care which satisfies all my wants.

It includes God's saving grace through Jesus Christ our Saviour. For he said, "I am the good shepherd. The good shepherd lays down his life for the sheep." So here is God's whole plan of salvation, eternal life through the death of Christ for sinners.

It is an expression of the faith of my heart, by the grace of the Holy Spirit, and "whoever believes in him shall not perish but have eternal life." Therefore I trust with confidence. I have security, boldness, a living hope.

The Lord is my shepherd. When, from the heart I can say this, then I know that there will also be fulfilled on me the Word of God that "The God of peace, who brought again from the dead our Lord Jesus, the great shepherd of the sheep by the blood of the eternal covenant, will equip me with everything good that I may do his will, working in me that which is pleasing in his sight, through Jesus Christ; to whom be glory forever and ever."

State Sets a New High in Buying Of Bonds in January

January purchases of the popular "E" and "H" series "H" Bonds totaled $1,000,000, a new high in Pennsylvania. These two series alone showed a total sale of more than $100,000,000 during the month, a gain over last month and over sales for January of last year.

In a recent letter to state directors and state chairmen of the Savings Bonds Division throughout the nation, Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey pointed out the importance of the Defense Bonds program to a sound economy in our nation.

January sales of E Bonds show that the people of Pennsylvania are now more than ever that defense Bonds provide personal security and national strength.

"Pennsylvania's quota for 1953, which is four hundred ninety-eight million dollars, presents the greatest challenge given to people of our state in the last six years," declared Arthur C. Kaufmann, state chairman, U. S. Defense Bonds Committee for Pennsylvania.

He further expressed confidence that the people of Pennsylvania would meet this challenge by surpassing the goal.

Glenn E. Stone, county chairman, Defense Bonds Committee, declared today that every business and organization in the county employing people on a regular pay-roll basis should review the status of the Payroll Savings Plan, and contact all employees who are not now members, in order to give them an opportunity to join this automatic plan for purchasing U. S. Defense Bonds.

"Every person in the county is urged, to see his employer on the Payroll Savings Plan or his bank on the Bond-A-Month Plan," said Mr. Stone.

It was also learned from Chairman Stone that Series E and H Bonds totaled $80,268 and Series M, H, J and K Bonds totaled $2,794 for January 1953. Sale of Series E, F and G for January 1952 totaled $139,107.

Gunfighter's Return by Leslie Ernenwein

Chapter 22

EVEN then Rimbaud thought he might be dreaming; might be imagining this. What would Della be doing here?

"Are you shot?" she insisted. "No, but they booted my ribs," Rimbaud said.

"You poor man!" she cried. "Let me help you into the cabin."

"Find my gun first," Rimbaud suggested. "It's over there near the water trough. I'll need it when they come back."

"I heard the shooting," Della said worriedly. "And one rider going away fast. Was it Sam?"

"Reckon so."

"I hope they don't catch him," Della said. "Oh, I hope he gets away."

"How about getting my gun?" Rimbaud prompted. "I'm liable to need it any time."

It took a few moments for her to find it—moments while Jim Rimbaud listened for the sound of approaching riders. Long moments while his nerves drew wire-tight and he was like Sam Maiben had been this morning.

"A little later," she said, "he directed impatiently when Della called for directions."

Again, as it had out here this afternoon, awful helplessness swept through him. He'd have no chance against them without a gun. And now, with a sickening sense of futility alogging through him, he heard Della exclaim, "Here it is! I've found it!"

"Good girl," Rimbaud said slyly. "Good girl."

Afterward, when she'd given him his gun, Della went into the house and lit a lamp she found in the bedroom. Then she came out totting one of the drapes from a window, saying, "I'll bind your side with this."

Seeing the way perspiration glistened on her forehead as he said, "I wish there was some whisky for you. It might kill the hurt."

Chapter Twenty-three

EVE ODEGARDE was in the kitchen, helping Limpy Smith with the breakfast dishes, when Mrs. Al Shumway came in and asked, "Can I see you alone for a moment, Eve? It's very important."

Mildly surprised, and wondering what prompted a social call this early in the day, Eve led her visitor out to the back stoop and closed the door.

"Well, I don't suppose you'll like what I'm going to say, but I consider it's my Christian duty and I'm going to do it."

Eve smiled. "Does it concern Sam Maiben?" she asked intuitively.

Faith Shumway nodded, compressing her lips.

"And you think I should hear it?" Eve prompted.

Mrs. Shumway nodded again. "You're the only one that should know about it. The only one."

"Well, if it concerns Sam, I suppose it's all right for me to know," Eve said.

"It concerns him—and our Ruthy!" the woman announced with hissing insistence. "It's the most scandalous thing you ever heard tell of!"

Eve frowned and said, "You mean that Sam has—that he's involved somehow with your Ruthy?"

"Not just somehow," Faith Shumway hissed. "But like a man with a woman. Honey-fusion—that's what he's up to with our Ruthy that's scarcely more than a child. Al caught Ruthy with a man behind the corral last night about nine o'clock."

"But it couldn't have been Sam," Eve said quietly.

"Al knew! Sam had trifling ways because he's seen him with Della Stromberg on two or three occasions since Sam got engaged to you," Mrs. Shumway announced.

Eve remained silent for a moment, revealing none of the shocked resentment that flared in her. Finally, as she said, "wonder who Ruthy is protecting."

"What you mean—protecting?" Eve shrugged. "It wasn't Sam

"There is," Rimbaud reported, and accomplished a grin. "On the bottom shelf, behind the flour and sugar."

And now, as he watched her go into the house, a sardonic sense of amusement came to him. What a joke this was—Lew Stromberg's daughter aiding the man her father hated! And she was the girl he'd called a brat.

When Della fetched the jug, Rimbaud took a long swig, and sighed, and said gustily, "You're all right, kid. By God, you're plenty all right!"

That pleased Della and she showed it in the way she smiled at him. "You're all right yourself," she said, crouching down and getting her shoulder under his right arm. "I'll help you up."

It wasn't far to the four-poster bed. But it proved a slow and painful journey for Jim Rimbaud. Despite Della's supporting shoulder, he had to halt repeatedly, and each time she gave him a pull at the jug. When the last painful maneuver onto the bed had been accomplished, Della brought him a cup of hot coffee spiked with whisky, saying, "This will help you relax."

It did. The breath-taking barbs of pain lessened to a dull ache, and presently, as she washed his bloodstained face with a wet cloth, the ache dissolved into a wooden numbness. He had difficulty keeping his eyes open, especially the right one, which was badly swollen. He said censoriously, "You've got me drunk," and liked the sound of her girlish laughter.

"You remind me of Sam," she said, "because you're so helpless. He seems like that all the time. It makes me feel like doing for him."

RIMBAUD felt sorry for her then, knowing how little chance there was of her winning Maiben away from Eve Odegarde. He wondered if Maiben appealed to Eve for the same reason. He Link took a short-snouted deringer from an inside pocket of his vest, using his left hand for this chore. He transferred the lethal little gun to his right hand, which was partially concealed by the bandaged cast that cased his broken arm from elbow to knuckles. Ernie had borrowed the derringer from Sheriff Robillard's collection of captured weapons on the pretext of needing it to point at Sam Maiben in case the fugitive came to town. But Ernie had another reason for wanting a hideout gun. A more important reason.

Now, with his right hand hidden by the wide sling that supported the arm, Link went down the steps and crossed Main Street in time to intercept Charley Bonn.

"What you in town so early?" Link inquired.

Charley shrugged and said evasively, "Might of come in for supplies."

"On horseback?" Ernie scoffed. Bonn peered at him through bloodshot eyes. He said, "I don't reckon it's none of your business why I came in."

Surprised at such brashness from so meek a man, Link asked, "What you been drinkin', Charley? You must be drunk to talk like that."

"I been dodging my shadow long enough," Bonn said slowly, thinking this out as he went along. "A man can't side-step trouble all the time. He's got to take his share. It ain't no worse to be beat down, or even shot, than it is to be dodging all the time. A man gets tired of that. He feels sick to his stomach. Which is why I'm telling you it ain't none of your business why I came to town."

"Drunk," mused Ernie. "Drunk as a lord."

Then, seeing Doc Featherstone and Eve Odegarde hurry toward Gabbert's Livery, Link asked, "What's Doc going in such a rush?"

Bonn didn't answer for a moment. Finally he said, "Might be Miz Swenson havin' another baby."

Whereupon he headed toward the jail to have a talk with Sam Maiben.

Big Crowd Sees Local Wrestlers Lose to Grove City

Lou Cummings Undeatable In 1953 Campaign; Visitors Out From Behind to Win, 26 to 16

Lou Cummings pinned his opponent in the second period to clinch an undefeated campaign last night, when one of the finest and most enthusiastic crowds of the season watched a strong Grove City High wrestling team come from behind in the last three bouts to trim the grapplers of Warren High 26-16, on the Beatty High mats.

The outcome wrapped up dual competition for both schools with even records. While the Dragons and Coach Homer Barr finished up with four wins, four defeats and one draw, Coach Red Forker's grapplers closed out with a 5-5 account.

In the first encounter with the visiting Grovers, the local matmen received a 29-11 trouncing but turned out a terrific and well liked performance last night despite the lopsided score. As usual the Barrmen were the aggressors in most of the bout and held Grove City to two pins in comparison to six they acquired in the away meeting.

Receiving an escape at the horn, Wayne Miller won a 4-3 verdict over E. Collar in the opening 95-pound bout. Collar earned the decision in the first meeting.

Warren's potential Sectional and District champion Lou Cummings, chalked up his ninth consecutive bout when he pinned D. Englehart in the third period. Lou acquired a take down and near fall in the first round, but was unable to put his scrappy opponent to the mat. In the second period Lou had a full round of riding time and then made a fast kill in the final frame.

Bob Smith gave the Dragons a nice 13-0 lead when he downed D. Koenig in 1:36 of the second round after a fast moving first two minutes. Then Grove City came back as S. Braine shut-out Bob Landers in the 120-pound division, 4-0, and Captain Rocco Puntireri made the only first period fall in the match over La Verne Hanson. Hanson dropped a weight class into what would be classed a sacrifice match.

Den Brown, who changed with Hanson, handed John Perry his initial loss of the season with a 5-3 verdict. Going into the final period the score was a draw, 2-2, then became a 3-3 deadlock before Brown made a take down for the winning margin late in the period. This undoubtedly was one of the most tiring battles of the night and both boys were almost dead on their feet at the final horn.

The victory was Brown's sixth of the season.

Crippled Warren Team Will Face Oilers

Planned by Richardson in their first encounter, Glenn Cook held the 138-pound contender to a 6-0 decision last night for his second defeat in nine bouts.

Grappling at 145, Chuck Eaton gave it a real try, but dropped a 3-2 count to Carl DeMario. This still left Warren in the lead, 16-15, and then the last three bouts fell through.

Steve Olson held A. Pardini to a 4-0 decision in the 154-pound section and Dan Cummings lost a 2-1 verdict to classy Ernie Young at 165. Then Captain Walt Pittman gave 20-pounds to heavy-weight Bob Guarnieri and was pinned in 1:09 of the second period.

All told, Grove City earned five decisions and two pins to Warren's two victories on pins and two falls.

This Saturday Coach Barr will take his entire varsity, along with 88-pounder Bob Olson, to the Section Two matches at The College in Greenville. The District performances will be staged in Erie the following week.

ISACKSON AND ETTINGER ON INJURED LIST

Warren High's varsity basketball team faces a grave situation when it goes into Section Two league action at Oil City tonight following a week's lapse. Gai Ettinger, first stringer on Coach Joe Massa's squad, received a serious cut on his foot after practice yesterday afternoon and is through for the season, and it is very doubtful that Dragon ace Re Isackson will see much activity.

Tip-off time for the game, 8:15 on the Lincoln Junior High hardwood.

Isackson, leading pointmaker for Warren with 208 points, took bad spill during a drive-in shot the Meadville encounter, hurting his right elbow, and has not been able to shoot with that arm a week.

This leaves Dick Hartnett, Bill Wilson and Bob Harrington of the regular starting five for the first with the Oilers. Coach Massa stated this morning that "Bru Duell will be the fourth man as that either Jerry Leonard or Jon Gordon will fill out the quintet."

The Oilers, who are currently deadlocked with Meadville for the conference lead with a record of seven wins against one defeat, enjoyed a 65-56 game with the Dragons on Beatty court and will be playing a "must" game tonight. The Wellmen handed Meadville its lone defeat by a one point margin and was upset Friday by an up Titusville Rock aggregation.

The probable combination Coach Hud Wells is Boscoe Hudjick and Burch at forwards, Ken Pleg at center, and John Fairbanks at Ron Black at the guard position. Pleg, second in the league in the individual scoring race, did not see action when the Oilers trounced Greenville, 68-51, last Tuesday.

Other league games tonight: Corry against Meadville on the latter's court, and Titusville takes to Franklin.

Games slated for tonight:

SECTION TWO
Warren at Oil City, Lincoln School floor, 8:15.

Del Rice Signs And Flies to Cardinals

St. Louis (P.)—Del Rice of the St. Louis Cardinals, described by Manager Eddie Stanky as the National League's best defensive catcher, finally has signed his 1953 contract and will fly to the St. Petersburg, Fla., training base Sunday.

After a brief conference yesterday with owner Fred Saigh, Rice said he was given "pretty much what I wanted." He was believed to have signed for between $16,000 and $18,000, compared to a reported $15,000 salary last year.

Hershey Bears At Buffalo on Sunday

St. Louis Defeats NYU But Isn't Sure Of Tourney Entry

New York (P.)—The National Invitation Basketball Tournament which most greatly desired Seattle to the NCAA, may lose equally sought after St. Louis to the classrooms.

St. Louis, tremendously popular with the New York fans, virtually wrote its own invitations to the NIT last night by swamping New York University, 98-78, at Madison Square Garden. But St. Louis Coach Eddie Hickey said he was doubtful that a bid could be accepted.

"We've missed an awful lot of school on this road trip," Hickey said. "The team has been away from St. Louis since last Friday and won't get home until Sunday."

"It will be up to the university authorities," the coach continued, "and they may think another trip back here would be too much."

Hickey admitted he would like to come to the NIT.

"After all," he said, "New York is the Billikins' second home."

St. Louis won the NIT in 1947 and has played in it three times since then, including last year.

The NIT, which opens March 7, has correlated four of its needed dozen teams—unbeaten Seton Hall, ranked No. 1 nationally in the Associated Press poll; fourth-ranking LaSalle; ninth-ranking Western Kentucky; and Manhattan College of New York, No. 13 in the poll.

Manhattan came in yesterday just after Seattle, which had received an invitation, cast its lot with the NCAA. Seattle is hoping for a chance to play the University of Washington in the Western NCAA Regional Tournament, but it will have to get a first round game with Idaho State to stay in the running.

She was discharged after dressings were applied to her burns.

RAILROADER DIES

The third railroad veteran in this area to die within a two-week period is George Simmons, of Kane, who passed away about five p. m. yesterday following a long period of ill health. Mr. Simmons, while not retired, had been on sick leave from his duties for the past three years. He entered service with the Pennsylvania Railroad Company in March, 1918, as a brakeman, and five years later was promoted to passenger service, serving over 25 years on the Erie to Emporium passenger trains through here until those trains were discontinued. He was an extra conductor and baggageman on the trains, and was well known in Warren. Of late years, he has been interested in the restaurant in Kane which was destroyed by fire when the Studebaker garage in the hill city was burned a short while ago. His only survivor is his wife.

hospital. It was decided to place clocks in the operating room, maternity labor room, at each nurses' station, in the board room, doctors' lounge, lobby and office.

The Board authorized purchase of a new resuscitator, approving the one chosen by the instrument committee of the hospital staff.

Additional fire insurance, due to progress of construction, was given approval.

It was learned that the equipment in the physiotherapy department will be ready for use during the coming summer.

Gifts are still being received for the memorial to the late Dr. Otis F. Brown, longtime member of the board.

During a general discussion on the progress of construction, the staff committee reported that maternity patients will be the last to be moved into the new building and that the present maternity division will continue to operate until final completion of the reconstruction of the old wings.

ing, for several years, to have repairs approved. With funds not available, the Adjutant General has been reluctant to approve the request, but now that funds have been provided under the Armory Rehabilitation Program, it is believed that Warren will have an Armory second to none in this section and that former GI's will be attracted to membership in a reactivated Company I. Use of the Armory will be primarily for military functions.

Several local firms will bid on the work to be done.

With Mr. Yagge as chairman, the Warren Local Armory Board is composed of Fred McCutcheon, Roger Mahaffy and Capt. Irvin Kays. The custodian is Thomas Mason.

weather is right, said Lt. Col. Theodore M. Wright, commanding officer of the CAP unit at Buffalo.

Meanwhile, state police and volunteers were expected to resume the hunt over rugged, wilderness terrain in Western New York.

The missing students had taken off to Olean to drop leaflets over St. Bonaventure University's campus in advance of a basketball game between the Bonnies and Niagara.

The pilot was James G. Sweetney, 19, of Elmhurst, Queens, a freshman. His passengers were Richard N. Hens, 21, of Wanakah; Donald L. Nickel, 21, of Rochester; and William J. Murphy, 22, of Lockport.

second ward; Mrs. Perry A. Davidson, Jr., third ward; Mrs. Donald Kinander, fourth ward; Mrs. G. A. Carlson, fifth ward; Mrs. Joseph K. Krimmel, sixth ward; Mrs. A. H. Bengtson, seventh ward; Mrs. Arthur L. Chapman, eighth ward and Mrs. Edward A. Flick, ninth ward.

Women who will assist the captains as lieutenants in their respective wards are also requested to be present at Monday night's meeting so all captains and lieutenants will be well acquainted with the procedure to be followed.

Last year the nine wards in Warren borough subscribed nearly $200 to the Red Cross drive and this year the total must be increased by about 10 per cent.

Both Mr. Gibson, Chairman of the Fund Drive, and his co-chairman R. E. Sires feel the ground work for a successful campaign has been set and that from now on it will largely depend on the zeal of the many volunteer workers in the county and borough; plus the committees making up the special services divisions.

Donald E. Schuler, who will have charge of all Warren county, outside the borough limits, has begun active preparations for the part the county districts will play and it is predicted that the county organization will surpass the fine record made a year ago.

Others assisting in the Red Cross Drive are H. N. Elmquist, Industry; Ruel Smith, Clubs and Fraternal organizations; Cread A. Erickson who will head the Commercial Division; Charles R. Tranter, Speaker's Bureau, and Wallace Cowden in charge of Special Gifts.

World Day of Prayer In Youngsville School

For the first time in the history of local observances of the World Day of Prayer, a special young people's service was arranged at held this morning at ten o'clock at a joint assembly of the Youngville Junior and Senior High Schools.

Presided over by Principal M. Sherwood, the program was based on the theme "Walk As Children of Light," from Ephesians 5:1, adapted by the librarian, Janet I. Henry, from material written by native teachers and children in Africa and supplied by the United Church Women of the National Council of Churches.

Using mimeographed program prepared by commercial student under the direction of Mrs. Stein, the entire student body joined in singing hymns, offering prayers and reading of scripture passages.

Music and singing were under the direction of Harvey Horn, assisted at the piano by a student accompanist, Corinne Sandberg.

Participating in the principal portions of the service were the following pupils: The flag salute, by Donald Kirk and Ardel Johnson; representing the Boy and Girl Scouts; readings and prayer, Dennis Engstrom, Barbara Hainold, Carol Haller, Robert Dennis Spencer, James Mourer, Le Vonne Spears, Carol Forsberg, A. athen, Johnson and Sally Bechtel.

Members of the Youngville Ministerial Association were present, also, for this special youth observance.

Valentine Dinner At Corydon Well Attended

Corydon — Saturday evening's Valentine party and dinner sponsored by the fire department, as a benefit affair, attracted a good sized crowd. Eighty-seven dinners were served, thus, barring expenses, the local group, was in the clear to the amount of $47. While not verified it is understood the firemen plan a dance this week-end.

After several weeks' postponement, the Ladies' Aid Society of the Methodist church resumed recently, with Mrs. George Prue the hostess. As formerly, members participate in the serving of a dinner that preceded the business session. Mrs. Bennett Putnam, South Valley, is president of the group.

In addition to the work and business meeting of the Foreign Missionary group of the Corydon Church of the Nazarene, held at the home of Mrs. B. M. Stoltz, a birthday party was held in honor of Mrs. Alex Jarrett, an active member. She was presented a gift. Mrs. Margaret Ruth is the next hostess.

A very enjoyable surprise birthday party was tendered Patty Tome in honor of her 12th anniversary at her home Friday evening. The honored one was presented numerous gifts, among them a birthday cake. The festivity was concluded with refreshments. Present were Jack and Janet Holsinger, Charles and Glenn Ruth, Sandra Black, Patty Hammond, Joyce Neely, Caroline Davis, Diane Duntley, Nancy Adams, Emma Jean Zdenecovich, Patty and Philip Tome.

Edward Adams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Adams, left Monday for induction into the U. S. forces. Prior to leaving, he was honored at a stag dinner party at the Hotel Corydon, 29 friends attending and presenting him a gift.

Mrs. Goldie Whyte was hostess to members of the Evening Card Club. Five hundred was played, and prizes were awarded to Maude Adams, high and traveling tokens; Mrs. Ora Carnahan, second; Hulda Black, consolation. A supper luncheon concluded the pleasant

ACCURATE...POSITIVE

2-Way Hydraulic Control with the MASSEY-HARRIS 2-Plow 22 and Depth-o-matic System

• Depth-o-matic 2-Way Hydraulic System gives you depth control of both mounted and pull-behind tools anywhere in your field. It's accurate, positive... completely safe. Depth-o-matic is but one of many better farming advantages you have with the 22. Others like 23.91 maximum drawbar horsepower; full-width operator platform; clear unobstructed vision; big 10-34 tires; the weight and power to handle both mounted and pull-behind tools mean the 22 does more work faster, easier, at less cost. And remember, the 22 is the lowest-priced tractor per drawbar horsepower in the 2-plow field.

Presbyterian Men Plan Dinner - Meet Next Tuesday Night

Arrangements for the Presbyterian Men's dinner-meeting which is to be held next Tuesday evening on Market street, are fast nearing completion.

The one thing lacking, according to Clifford Johnson, ticket chairman for the affair, is ticket sale reports from the captains and lieutenants of the 22 men's units, who are supposed to be selling tickets to the members of their unit.

Tickets have to be sold if the dinner-meeting is to be successful. The program committee headed by Brackett Ayers and Don McComas is to be congratulated on securing Dr. George E. Parkinson, Canton, Ohio, as the speaker and it is now up to the captains and lieutenants to show some enthusiasm in urging their unit members to buy tickets and attend.

An entertaining musical program has been arranged by Robert Dietrich, music chairman of the men's group, and every man attending is promised an enjoyable evening.

This is to be one of the most important and outstanding meetings of the year sponsored by the local chapter of Presbyterian Men and President Ralph Sires is hopeful that at least 150 men of the church will attend.

Those men not yet contacted but wishing to attend, should without delay make reservation with the captain of their unit, or with Clifford Johnson, Ralph Sires, Wm. P. Taylor, Nat Drake, or call the church office.

Mr. Johnson would like to have reports from all captains by Saturday noon as to how many tickets they have sold.

Titusville to Have Cancer Meet Monday

Four representatives of the Warren County Unit, American Cancer Society, will attend an area campaign meeting to be held Monday in Titusville's Colonel Drake Hotel, with luncheon at 1:00 p. m.

Comprising the delegation will be Dr. Homer H. Lewis, president; Harry Logan, Jr., campaign chairman; Miss Dorothy R. Baker, county captain, and Mrs. William E. Rice, publicity chairman.

Some 50 representatives from the eight-county Northwest Area will attend the meeting, which has been called by the chairman, Harry C. Winslow, MD, of Meadville, to discuss plans for the April Cancer Crusade, combined educational and fund-raising drive of the American Cancer Society.

The delegates will hear discussions on campaign organization, the work of the ACS on a national, state and county level, and see displays of new campaign materials and literature.

LANDER

Lander—Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Van Ord, with Mrs. Katherine Francisco of Busti, are spending a couple of weeks in Florida. Mrs. Cora Wilbur, Clarendon, is staying at the Van Ord home during their absence.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Lindell, Mr. and Mrs. Arvid Gruber visited Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Swart at Jamestown, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Gruber and family, Sugar Grove, Gene, Joyce, Jimmie and David Gruber were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Gruber.

The Berber peoples of North Africa were called Numidians in ancient times.

Times Topics

DRAFT OFFICE CLOSES
Because of Monday being observed as a national holiday, the office of the Warren County Selective Service will be closed.

IS HOSPITALIZED
Lee Dunn, 9 Dahl street, in Temple University Hospital, Philadelphia, for surgery on Thursday, would be pleased to hear from friends who would like to write him in care of Room 202.

CORPORATE COMMUNION
Men and boys of Trinity Memorial Episcopal church are reminded of the corporate communion and breakfast Sunday morning in connection with the eight o'clock service.

ELKS' WINNERS
Gust Bova and Harold Gustin were high pair last night for the five-table tournament of the Elks Bridge Club. In second position were A. J. Scalise and Ed Koebler; third, Harry Christensen and M. A. Kornreich; fourth, Walter Pearson and Henry Hunzinger.

MRS. SMITH PRESIDES
Mrs. Hazel Smith, superintendent of Warren General Hospital and president of the Northwest Regional Hospital Association of Pennsylvania, presided at a meeting of 30 hospital administrators from this section in Oil City, Wednesday. Public relations were discussed during the afternoon.

RAILROAD LAYOFF
According to word received here, orders from the main offices of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, in Philadelphia, will result in the furlough of 73 employees from the Renovo shops, effective at once. The order includes machinists, car repairmen and boiler-makers, and no indication was given as to the duration of the layoff. Local railroad officials said that Warren was not affected by the order. Although there are a few local employees furloughed at the present time, it is expected that these will be back at work in a few days.

BENNETT IS FREED
A sealed verdict of not guilty in the involuntary manslaughter case against James A. Bennett, 43, of Oil City, reached shortly after 5 p. m. Wednesday, was opened in Forest County Court, Thursday morning. Bennett, former proprietor of a Tionesta restaurant, was charged with the death of Miles A. Taylor, 37, of Tionesta, Star Route, last Sept. 12, when the Bennett car crashed into the rear of a tractor driven by Taylor on combined Routes 34 and 66 near Tionesta. In the first trial, last December, the jury could not agree. Judge Allison D. Wade presided at both trials.

ELDRD OBSERVERS
Two school directors from Eldred township sat in on a meeting in Spartansburg High school, Wednesday night, when representatives of Bloomfield, Athens and Sparta townships and Spartansburg borough discussed possible jointure of the four districts. The Eldred directors took no part except as observers. The meeting ended with the boards deciding to meet separately to consider what concessions, if any, they might make. Spartansburg and Sparta feel a high school in Spartansburg, utilizing the new $30,000 gymnasium as a part of it, is most feasible; Athens will not enter the jointure if the school is at Spartansburg. Bloomfield is making feelers toward Union City, but the latter may not be willing to accept Bloomfield. Little was accomplished at the meeting.
